The College feels deeply the loss of its founder and first president, Dr. A. H. Unruh. With his deep piety, wealth of experience and his inspiring lectures he "gave grace to those who heard." "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints."

No Other Foundation

I. Cor. 3:11

The permanency of a structure, whether material or spiritual, is determined by its foundation. This is the great truth which Christ impresses on His hearers as He closes his "Sermon on the Mount." The wise man built his house upon a solid foundation. The rising floods and the raging storms could not destroy it, "for it was founded upon a rock."

The permanency, stability, and continuing effectiveness of our Mennonite Brethren Church will be determined by our unwavering loyalty to the foundation "that is laid, which is Jesus Christ." The fierce winds of false doctrine (Eph. 4:14), the rising tides of sin and lawlessness (Matt. 24:12), and the organized forces of darkness (Eph. 6:12) will not prevail against the Church that remains true to Christ in faith and life — in doctrine and ethics. The Christians of Corinth were in danger of building their faith on the shifting sands of human authority and leadership. The Apostle Paul reminds them of the exclusiveness of this foundation in the verse cited above. There is no other foundation, there is no other name (Acts 4:12), there is no other gospel (Gal. 1:9).

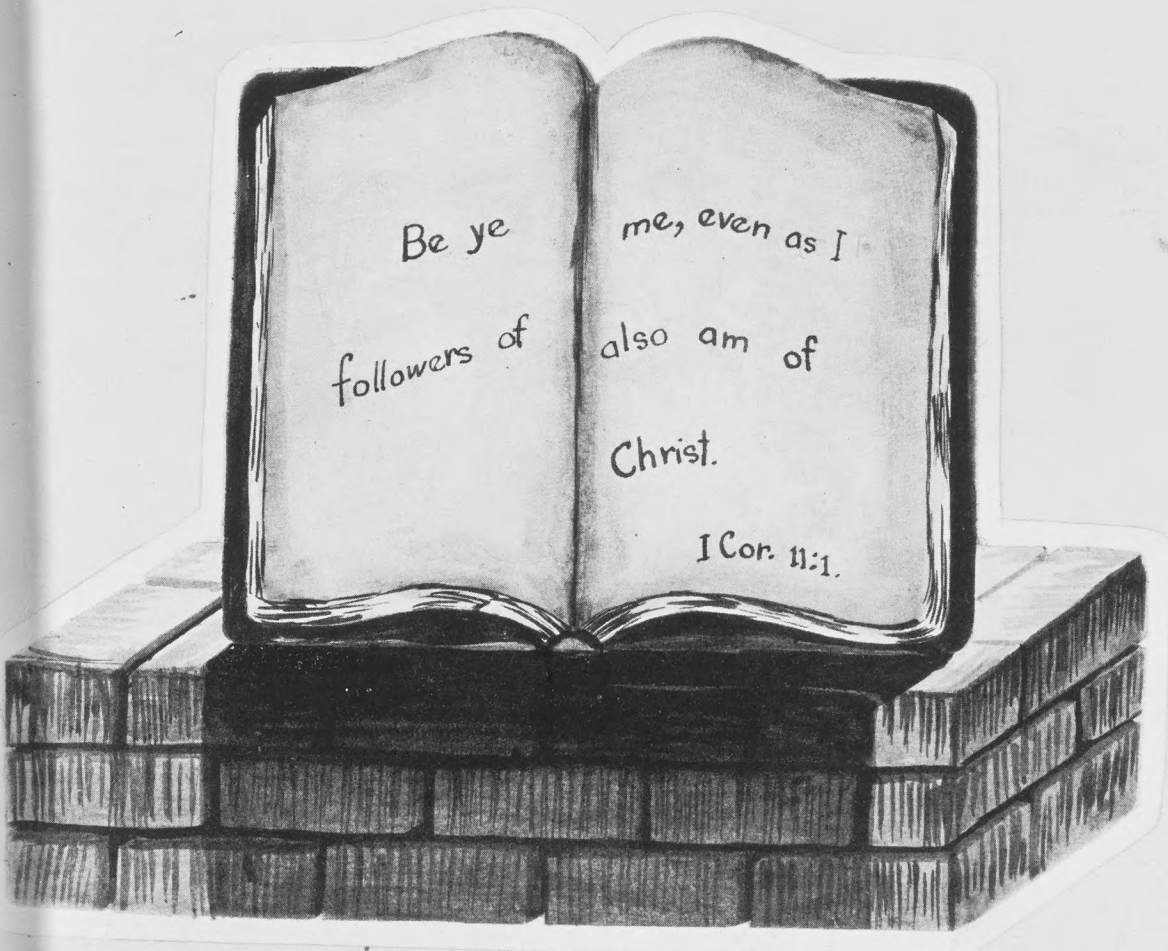

The Bible College is dedicated in its total program of instruction and training to this foundation. With the great hymn writer, Samuel J. Stone, we gladly and firmly confess: "The Church's one foundation, is Jesus Christ her Lord." The sure foundation, however, is the Christ of the Scriptures, the Christ whom the Word of God reveals. To know this Christ, and then to make Him known, constitutes our chief task and responsibility.

As our dear graduates and students leave the halls of our College for various fields of service at home and abroad, it is our earnest prayer that they may ever build on this one and only foundation, the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ, our Lord!

A wide horizon of experience and knowledge are channeled to his students through his practical outlook and frequent, humorous illustrations. Besides many other duties, Dr. Peters still finds time for personal contact and fellowship with the students; and the meaning of Christian discipleship is vividly portrayed in his exemplary life. His transmission of scriptural truths is facilitated by his profound Biblical insight.

Sincere interest and genuine amiability are characteristics which we as students especially appreciate in our Dean. In his duties he exhibits a personality well-equipped with tact and Christian love, both of which are invaluable to a counsellor. Mr. Baerg's willingness to answer questions adds to his teaching ability and deepens our knowledge of the subjects. His optimism and cheerful disposition assist greatly in establishing a friendly contact with the students.

Mr. Toews presents a dynamic example of one who has met the Lord and recognizes God's call to service as a most sacred and demanding responsibility. His practical lectures give evidence of a deep desire to lead others to this same intimacy and realization. Such a burden, in addition to a rich pastoral background, intellectual discernment, and a prodigious capacity for work, makes his impact permanent and indelible.

He has distinguished himself as librarian, scholar, and Christian example. As librarian he possesses a profound knowledge of men and books. The scholar is seen in the thorough preparation for his lectures and chapel talks in which he reveals depth of thought, a wide scope of interest, and an understanding of the practical issues of life. The Christian example is apparent in his sound judgment, compass of thought, and unassuming manner.

If singing Christian music may be termed a pleasant theology course, then Mr. Martens has taught us many profound Christian truths this year. In the power of his sincere faith and tremendous artistry — technical as well as interpretive — he led us into depths of Christian music which we had not known to exist. As the years heap higher, we will remember him in the inimitable words and music of Bach:

Trotz dem alten Drachen,
Trotz des Todes Rachen,
Ich steh hier und singe:
Gottes Macht haelt mich in acht.

Mr. Klassen has contributed much to the music department through his scholarship and Christian philosophy of music. With interesting lectures he reveals individuality, a unique sense of humour and the ability to express every thought with exactly the right word. ### The College Board of Directors

The objective of our Bible College is clearly stated: "... to provide an opportunity for earnest young men and women to prepare adequately for the high calling of Christian service ..." Such an objective assumes that the student is a genuine Christian, endowed with abilities to serve, and willing to submit himself to such discipline as is required for those who would serve.

The College does not bestow ability but seeks to provide opportunity. It does not extend a call to Christian service but endeavours to recognize God's call in the life of the student. It does not assign a field of service but assists the student to find his role in life by means of a counselling program.

As a Board we are conscious of the ever-increasing demands that are placed upon the Christian worker by the church and the world. The call is for men who know God experientially, who are saturated with His Word, who are deeply conscious of a divine commission, who love and understand man and who are dynamic in their presentation of gospel truth as they relate it to our present day needs. Thus, with the strong support of our constituency, the Board has sought to rise to the occasion and provide for a competent and devoted faculty and a physical, intellectual, and spiritual environment conducive to the training of young people, called of God to proclaim the "unsearchable riches of Christ."

My College experience has deepened my realization of the implications of Galatians 2:20, "I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God who loved me and gave himself for me."

"How precious to me are thy thoughts, O God! How vast is the sum of them" (Ps. 139:17).

Help me to trust the Christ who bore my sorrows

And thus to yield for life or death to Thee.

STUDENT

COUNCIL

Before leaving this earth, Christ prepared his disciples for continuing the great task which He had begun. We might say, he offered them a three year course. The four Gospels would then constitute the "Yearbook" of their school. Referring to his Gospel, Luke speaks of "all that Jesus began both to do and teach" (Acts 1:1). The college which the disciples attended had only one teacher, but apparently he offered two courses — the practical and the theoretical. Nowhere is there any indication that there was an option; both courses were compulsory. One class of people, the Pharisees, fell under the severest reproach of the Master, and the reason Jesus condemned them was because "they say and do not" (Matthew 23:2b). They had neglected the practical. Christ was not only a perfect teacher, but he also gave his students ample opportunity for preaching, healing the sick, and helping the poor, and who is able to say that he did not also join them in singing and recreation?

Most students come to College to study, but our training here would be incomplete if provisions were not made for the application of our knowledge. The student council has tried to serve in this area by providing opportunities and guidance to the students in applying the lessons so forcefully presented by our instructors. We trust that in our school neither of these two important courses have been neglected, and that as a result each of us might leave this school as "a workman that needeth not to be ashamed" (I Timothy 2:15).

M I S S I O N S

A goodly number of our students have had little or no experience in any type of church work prior to their coming to College. Issuing from the importance of the church's God-given assignment, we are under constant moral obligation to seek greater effectiveness in our handling of the Word of Truth. This cannot be done merely by acquiring countless facts and theories; we must consciously and constantly apply ourselves in the arena of practical experience. This may sometimes become wearisome, nevertheless, if we desire to handle the Word rightly, as we do, we cannot afford to by-pass this priceless opportunity of training for service through service.

We dare not look upon our labour solely as an opportunity to advance our own training — the very purpose of the Christian life far transcends such a narrow and selfish goal. While we do not wish to emphasize our ministry beyond the limits of its importance, we do wish to say, and that humbly, that we are "striving together for the faith of the gospel" (Philippians 1.27). "For the Son of man also came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many" (Mark 10.45). We have been entrusted with a commission — to present the unsearchable riches of Christ to those who are being carried away to death — and it is our desire to fulfill this obligation which we have received from the Lord.

"The PRAYER of a righteous man has great power in its effects" (James 5:16b).

One of the Christian's primary tasks is evangelism. We are responsible for bringing the "Living Water" to our generation. Our task at College is accomplished by many and varied phases of devoted labour such as personal work, preaching, and pastoring. The part of the Foreign Missions Committee of our school in this great work of evangelism, is to promote the ministry of prayer. Knowing that continuous prayer has great power in its effects, we have taken upon ourselves the task of interceding for lost humanity and for the evangelistic witness of today.

We have a threefold purpose in our intercessory program. Firstly, our prayer to God is that men everywhere might be saved from an eternity of death to an eternity of life. Secondly, it is our concern that through this prayer program each student will become aware of his responsibility to this age and will become burdened for the souls still lost in sin. Thirdly, it is our aim to acquaint ourselves with the work of our mission board and the efforts of other evangelical missions, in order that we may become aware of what is being done and what is yet to be done. We believe, that with these purposes accomplished, we as students will be more ready to hear and answer God's call to service.

God has answered our prayers and many students have become burdened for missions. We are grateful for this and shall continue to make our requests known unto God.

Dave Loewen.

Music plays a vital role in the Christian's spiritual development. We have learned to realize how important it really is and how basic it has become to our form of worship. Man's desire to praise God is not satisfied in a mere verbalization of truth; rather it seeks a deeper mode of expression. Music fills this special need and makes our worship more meaningful by enhancing and intensifying the truth.

Because our school realized the value of the ministry in song, several octets, quartets, trios, and other ensembles of various sizes were formed. The college family, local churches, missions, Sunday Schools, Old Folks Homes, and jails have tasted the fruits of this ministry. We thank God for the many open doors which we were able to enter with the songs of salvation.

An enriching experience for the College and the whole constituency was the presentation of two larger works: "The Messiah" by G. F. Handel and "The Requiem" by Brahms. Mr. Victor Martens, the head of the music department, was the conductor of the 175 voice oratorio choir in both productions.

Of spiritual and educational value to the 30 voice A Cappella Choir was the singing of Bach's motet "Jesus Meine Freude." This work was also recorded and broadcast over the CBC network. In addition, the choir worked on a repertoire of songs which were used in the visitations to the Manitoba, Alberta, and B.C. churches.

A donation of $2,500 was made by the student body to the music department towards the purchase of an organ. The music committee, expresses its gratitude to the student body for its sacrifice which made this gift to our Alma Mater possible.

It was a God-given privilege for the committee to assist in the various musical activities of our College. May God grant that our every contribution has furthered His cause.

Students at College have always shown interest in the literary functions of the school. The literary committee, therefore, faces a definite challenge and a great responsibility in meeting the expectation of the students.

The committee is in a unique situation in that its work and responsibilities are not clearly defined. Despite this, adequate provision is made for expression of originality by providing ample opportunity for student participation in the large literary field.

The College "Companion" is one of the main vehicles of student expression. Since all are encouraged to contribute, it is obvious that a paper of this nature cannot always be of the top literary quality. It has, however, proven to be source of blessing to those writing as well as those reading the various articles that appeared.

This year, the committee has also branched out into other areas of work. A debate was sponsored, the resolution being "that M.B.'s should more actively participate in efforts directed toward the rectifying of social and moral evils." The literary program included such things as a poetry contest, a public speaking contest, a film, and a drama.

Although the committee members have all felt their limitations and incapacities, they have worked enthusiastically and faithfully. Not all the work demanded special literary talent but it all contributed to the success of the program for the year.

Then soar up high,
Yea, higher than the clouds,
To join a thousand others there.
Grey rocks
Unchanged stand
Down through the centuries;
Though winds and ocean
O'er them break
With forceful weight and thundering cry.
Alone and motionless
They lend themselves without reserve
Unto the Sea.
The Sand,
Warmed by
The sun's hot rays,
Unkept by rising ocean tides
Which come and go
And drive the drift wood and the sea shells up,
Is soft and comforting to me
As full of wonderment I stand,
And from my vantage point
Obeserve the Sea.

The Medical Aid Association has been founded in accordance with the exhortation in Galatians 6:2, "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ." The purpose of the association is to promote good health among the students, to maintain a high standard of sanitation in the campus buildings, to provide first aid, to practise preventative medicine, and to assist in the financial settlement of the medical expenses which are incurred.

The student body was not altogether spared illness this year. Several casualties were due to the extreme activity of students. The consequence was loss of coordination of limbs. Resulting sprains were painful and convalescence was slow. The ambitious student, in his unending search after knowledge and in his continuous concentration, suffered from either of two extremes — insensibility to subject matter or pounding headache. Diversion of activity with the aid of an aspirin soon brought the desired relief. Surgery and wearisome hours in the hospital were the lot of others. The common cold and digestive disorders have made inroads among the student body as well. Members suffering from major afflictions or minor discomforts have, however, through treatment, medication, and reassurance made satisfactory recoveries.

We owe our thanks to God for the protection we have experienced and the health we have enjoyed this year.

Recreation played an important part in our College program.

The activities in which we participated were designed to invigorate the body as well as the mind. Our regular program consisted of volleyball, basketball, ping-pong, hockey, skating, and baseball. Teams were organized and a number of games were played against the Mennonite Brethren Collegiate Institute. With the addition of several "rookies" from the East and West, the College produced a high calibre of play.

The committee arranged a number of "socials" which were enjoyed by students and teachers alike. Exchange visits with the students of the Cnaadian Mennonite Bible College proved to be highlights of the year.

Many lessons that find application in successful Christian service are learned in competitive recreation. Where can you better learn to co-operate with others, to accept defeat graciously, and to exercise self-control than in the area of recreation? It is our motto, that "Whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him".—(Colossians 3:17).

The Alumni of the M.B. College welcomes the graduates of '61 into our Association and fellowship. Each year we look forward to receiving a new and vigorous group of young people to help us in the work and witness for Christ, especially as they are related to our College, its outreach and influence or the Gospel.

In many institutions, the Alumni is a restricted body comprised of the actual graduates. We believe however, that it is more profitable for our Association to welcome all ex-students of the College into our fellowship, thereby giving added strength and unity for the responsibilities which face us. It is our hope that in the coming year we will be able to recruit all former students of the M.B.B.C. to join us by becoming bona-fide members of the Association with all the rights and privileges and duties enjoyed by the graduates. Please accept this as your open invitation.

As the work of the school grows and its demands increase, and as our Association becomes larger, we will endeavor to expand our support to the College through good public relations, practical gifts, intercessory prayer, helpful criticism and financial assistance.

We would like to greet all former graduates and students through this page and wish you God's richest blessing in your work, witness and faithfulness in your commitment to our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

There is a tide in the affairs of men
Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune;
Omitted, all the voyage of their life
Is bound in shallows and in miseries.
On such a full sea are we now afloat . . .
